Delivery of your files is free

This includes an optional preflight check of your file, and the fixing of any issues the check reveals. However, if your advert is the wrong size, or requires colour conversion you will need to sort the issues prior to delivery. You can either cancel your job, fix the problems yourself and then start the upload again with a new file, or you can use the optional system tools to re-purpose your existing file.

Optional PDF resize:

Ad.fast offers a resize function that allows for cropping of unwanted material as well as proportional and disproportional size changes to meet the publisher's ad size criteria. If you use this tool you will be charged a fee.

Optional colour conversion:

If the colour specification of your file does not match the publisher's requirements, it will need to be converted. AdFast provides a colour conversion tool for your use if desired. If you use this tool you will be charged a fee.

Invoicing for extra costs:

The charges for using these optional services will be invoiced after use. Preferred payment is via Direct Debit, payment via BACS is also possible.
